CLEBURNE.

A Santa Fe Bomb-Shell—The Hop-Santa Fe of a Sheep Ranch—A Traveller's Notes.

Cleburne, January 23.—The GAZETTE'S special from Galveston giving the news of prospective changes in the management of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe railway caused quite a ripple of excitement here to-day, especially among railroad men. A new general manager will doubtless mean a new set of officials throughout, and also changes of policy. It may also mean a reduction of wages.

The Cleburne Light Guards gave their hop last night. It was well managed throughout, and was enjoyed by the considerable crowd that attended. The Dallas Queen City guards to the number of sixteen arrived last evening and were received by the Cleburne company at the depot. They were escorted to the Cleburne house, where S. C. Paderford, Esquire, delivered an address of welcome. The visitors were hospitably entertained and left to-day well impressed with Cleburne, its military and people generally.

Mr. H. B. Godley, the lumber man, on yesterday sold his sheep ranch and herds situated thirteen miles from Cleburne in this county. Mr. White of New Mexico is the purchaser, and it is said the price paid was $20,000. Mr. Godley has lately bought some fine Angora goats from the Texas Investment company which were on the ranch.

Mr. Madison Wear, who has been traveling by team through the western counties, was in town yesterday and left this morning for Richmond. He has had good opportunity for observation into the fence troubles, and speaks his conclusions. He says it is a great mistake to suppose that fence-cutting is done only by single men or small parties. He states that he unexpectedly ran across a large number of horses hit and their riders cutting through the fences, and that he has been thrown out of employment by the fencing of pastures are the worst enemies of the fences. He says that a herd law will find no advocates in the territory through which he has traveled, and cannot be enforced.

The temperature has been falling steadily since 4 o'clock this afternoon until now a soft, keen norther is blowing.

HOUSTON.

The Grand Prize Hunt of City Sportsmen—An Interesting Contest—A Missing Woman.

Houston, January 23.—A grand prize hunt between forty-four city sportsmen was held to-day as per agreement in spite of the wet weather.

Captains Hutcherson and Tallaferra selected twenty-two men to hunt for a head of deer. This evening showed that Hutcherson's men had killed 328 and Tallaferra's 333. After count was completed, all arrivals brought Hutcherson's score to 420 and Tallaferra's to 406. However, victory was awarded to Tallaferra's. Every possible stratagem was used, two locomotives and one steam tug being chartered to carry the sportsmen to favorite fields. The total number of birds killed was 825, of which W. D. Cleveland got one and Geo. Ellis of Hockley 92. Ellis thus sustains his well-earned reputation of being the best field shot in the state. The victors are being entertained by a banquet with an elegant game supper.

Miss Emma, a sick colored school teacher at Bray's Bayou, evaded her nurse during the night and cannot be found. She is supposed to be wandering through the woods, or else has succumbed to the severe weather. Search is being made.

WICHITA FALLS.

Business Notes—Run Over by a Wagon—A Lady Accidentally Shot.

Wichita Falls, January 23.—Messrs. W. N. Barker & Co. have just opened on Ohio-avenue a large and complete wholesale and retail stock of hardware and crockery. This makes the third hardware house in town, yet the demands of the farmers and ranchmen of this and adjacent counties are so great it is all they can do to keep their shelves supplied. W. M. Barker & Co. will also handle wagons, carriages and buggies.

On Monday Mr. S. R. Richardson fell from his loaded wagon, near Stone's ranch, thirty miles from here, and his right leg was run over and broken just above the ankle. When he was brought to town his leg was swollen to such a degree that it was impossible to put it in plaster, but by the scientific treatment of Dr. F. G. Mullins he has greatly improved, and is resting easy to-day.

Mrs. W. S. Howard, wife of Justice Howard of this place, was a casualty shot with a pistol yesterday, the bullet entering the right side of the face and ranging down the shoulder, making a painful but not dangerous wound. The accident was caused by the pistol being discharged from the bed while she was moving the cover.

A cold, dry norther has been blowing here since last night.

GALVESTON.

Death Penalty Affirmed—Deep Water—Local Brivettes.

Galveston, January 23.—The court of appeals today affirmed the judgment involving the death penalty in the case of Juan Gomez, who during the fiesta at San Diego last year shot and instantly killed a drunken unarmed man named E. Ifano Demas. Gomez has been remanded for sentence.

The city council to-night passed a vote of thanks to the mayor and city council of San Antonio for the interest expressed in the Galveston deep water project. The council appropriated $2,500 to defray the expenses of five citizens appointed to visit Washington for the purpose of obtaining a special appropriation to improve the entrance to this port.

The new water works were unanimously accepted, although not fully up to the contract requirements.

W. G. West, son of Associate Justice West, was today enrolled as an attorney and counselor in the supreme court.

Sydney Dillon, president of the Union Pacific road, was in the city a few hours to-day.

Allison Re Elected.

Des Moines, January 23.—In joint session of the legislature to-day voted to re-elect Allison to the United States senator, which was carried by a vote of 19 to 10. Mr. Allison is 67 years of age, and is a member of the Republican party. He was elected in 1885, and will serve until March 4, 1889.

Des Moines.

Des Moines, January 23.—The house of representatives today passed a bill to amend the act relating to the election of members of the legislature, which was carried by a vote of 19 to 10.

WACO.

An Informal Meeting of Stockmen—Burglars' Raids—Nuptial Chimes.

Waco, January 23.—Whether it is by preconcerted arrangement cannot be said, but it is remarked that a number of prominent stockmen from Bell, Bosque, Fall and McLennan counties are in town to-day. They appear to have held informal conferences in a quiet way, but speak without reserve of the stock and fence troubles. Without exception they oppose the Terrell bill, but admit that it is only a question of time when something of that kind must come into existence.

The burglars continue their exploits. One went into Mr. Oscar Cantelero's office, in broad daylight, while Mr. C. was out superintending some work, and stole a fine gold watch and chain, ten dollars in money, jewelry and a lot of clothing. Mr. Horace Pickett, book-keeper of the wholesale grocery firm of Kellum & Botan, led Miss Emma Chalmers, to the marital altar last evening, to the Missouri Pacific train, from Fort Worth, was eight hours late to-day. A cold rain has prevailed since noon.

MEMPHIS.

A Prize in Life's Lottery—Miss Causey's New-found Fortune.

Memphis, Tenn., January 23.—The gossip of this city are about to be treated to a spy romance. Miss Jennie Causey has just learned that she is a wealthy heiress. When her father died, it is alleged he left his widow and three children well provided for. Some time after the widow became the victim of an insidious disease, which was increased by the yellow fever epidemic of 1878, which robbed her of two children. About that time by some strange freak the mother and child became separated, although both continued to reside here, the mother earning a living by sewing and the girl by clerking. So complete was their estrangement that until last night it was unknown to Miss Causey whether her mother was living or dead. All this time the girl was constantly inquiring what became of her father's estate, and came to the conclusion that her mother's mental condition had been taken advantage of by some unscrupulous persons, but she kept her counsel, and in possession of facts which show that her worst fears are more than verified. Able counsel will be engaged to try and recover what was on a hand-some fortune.

SAN SABA.

A Drummer Robbed by a Lone Highwayman—Brivettes.

San Saba, January 23.—Mr. Nelson Davis of the firm of Jake Davis & Co. of Galveston came in to-day and reported that day before yesterday he was robbed by a highwayman, between Burnet and Llano, and ordered at the point of a Winchester to deliver what money he had. Mr. Davis pulled from his vest pocket $7.50 in silver, stating that was all the money he had. The robber took it, and ordered him to hand over his greenbacks. Mr. Davis remarked to him that he was left on the ground, and that he had a book in his pocket. He thought he had any greenbacks to give and search him. The robber seemed satisfied and turned and left him. Mr. Davis thinks he was a new hand in the business, as he was very much excited and thinks there were others near by. The robber had a handkerchief tied over his face. Mr. Davis has a considerable money concern in San Antonio. The Stutzze Dramatic Co. are playing here to good houses this week.

Stock is in bad condition in this county, and many will die if this weather continues. A cold norther is now blowing.

CAMERON.

Ferretting Out the Fire Bugs—What One of Them Says.

Cameron, January 23.—The citizens have co-operated in a vigorous attempt to ferret out the cause of the last Monday night's fire, and bring the infamous incendiary to justice. Henry Norwood, who was first arrested, has been released on the statement of Jake Ward, an accused party, that he stood watch while F. W. Reed stuck a torch to the kindling that started the fire, and wrapped his own hands in flames, and but for the discovery and timely action of the citizens would now constitute the town of Cameron.

A move is on foot to organize a book and ladder company, which we should have had long since.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Agriculture in the Cabinet—Senator Maxey's Views—Mitchell in a Bad Box.

Washington, D. C. January 23.—The agricultural bureau as a department of the government has been pushed a long time by Commissioner Loring, and the impression largely prevailed that the bill stands a good chance to pass congress, if not at this session at some other. Senator Maxey stated to the GAZETTE'S correspondent to-night that he thought the passage of the bill would entail much extra expense upon the government, without any appreciable benefit to farmers, and would establish a precedent that would have to be carried out for every other industry. Each department was designed to affect the whole people and not any particular class, as is designed by this bill, and although several departments have been added since the first administration, the original idea still prevails, for most of the present departments were created to benefit any particular class of industry. "It any particular class," said the senator, "in a government as simple as possible. I am as free from wanting to break down agriculture as any man can be, but I don't see where agriculture will be benefited by the bill. If Dr. Loring was made a member of the cabinet I do not see how to aid the farmer."

Mitchell's Mistake.

A matter leaked out to-day at the capitol which seriously concerns two Oregon senators. Ex-Senator Mitchell, in his address before the house public lands committee, declared the Oregon Central railroad to be a legal corporation, and that it enjoyed the rights of the Pacific coast, and cited the names of Senators Dolph and Slater to uphold his statement. He argued against forfeiture of the land grants of
